CAN I REFURBISH MY SIGN?

Is your signage showing its age?

Is your signage outdated or have you rebranded?

All of these are good reasons to consider new signage. However, a sign makeover or what we call "refurbishing" your existing signs can be a viable option if the conditions are right. If cost and time are your key drivers, then this may be the solution for you.

Complete this quick evaluation to see if your signage is a good candidate to be refurbished:

1 CHECK THE POSTS OR STRUCTURE

- The posts are secure in the ground (i.e. not wobbly or leaning). ☐ YES ☐ NO
- The posts are solid and free of rot or rust. ☐ YES ☐ NO
- The paint on the posts is in good condition (i.e. not peeling). ☐ YES ☐ NO
- The structure or base is in good condition (i.e. not crumbling or falling apart). ☐ YES ☐ NO

2 CHECK THE PANEL & ATTACHMENT METHOD

- The lettering on the panel is flat (i.e. not raised). ☐ YES ☐ NO
- The panel is in good condition (i.e. no rot or rust). ☐ YES ☐ NO
- You can visibly see the hardware or brackets that are used to attach the panel to the posts or structure. ☐ YES ☐ NO ☐ UNSURE

3 THE VERDICT Should You Consider Refurbishing Your Signage?

Count the number of Yes and No answers:

_____ YES _____ NO

If you answered YES to at least 3 questions, refurbishing your signs may be a cost effective option.
